The Concert Hall was built in 1878 and quickly became the center of social life in Hermann. The first-floor tavern was the perfect gathering spot for locals and fun-loving Missourians. The spacious upstairs hall was home to many plays, lectures, dances, and concerts. In 1886, a summer garden (pictured) was erected on the adjacent lot (now home to the bank) and hosted regular outside band concerts. The tavern quickly became known as one of the largest and finest west of St. Louis. Today, the tradition continues, with the Concert Hall and Barrel Tavern boasting the title of oldest continually operating tavern west of the Mississippi River. The upstairs hall is still used for parties, live bands, DJ’s, and much more...
