Shelby's DINER

TRADEWIND AIRPORT ESTABLISHED 1946

Shelby Masterson Kritser opened Tradewind Airport in Amarillo, Texas in 1946. He was an extremely talented pilot and excelled in aerobatics in his vintage World War II Grumman F8F Bearcat and Bücker Jungman. His goal was to bring people together through aviation. WHEN ENTERING at Tradewind Airport, you would find his linemen dressed in a crisp, clean white shirt, a black leather bowtie, royal blue trousers, and a blocked Legionnaire hat. WHEN EXITING he had a sign posted: "You are now entering the most dangerous area in the world, a public highway". Most importantly, you did not bother his pet rooster that made it's home at Tradewind.
